

The Voyage of Life.

Sailing down the stream of time—
Looking back to view the shore,
Where my early years began,
To trace their nevermore!

Often by the way I've lost,
Little barges that sailed with me,
Some were often tempest-tossed,
Others sank into the sea.

Eyes that beamed on me so bright
When I started on life's main
Closed, while yet 'twas morning light,
Closed, and opened ne'er again.

Hopes, that sparkled in the sun,
Diamond-like on every wave,
Sank when billows burst upon—
Sank, and only left—a grave!

Still my little barge is sailing,
Down the rapid stream of time;
Sails are torn, and timbers failing—
Making for another clime.

Hang a rainbow over head,
Mid the clouds a golden bar,
And on ocean's darksome bed,
Brightly glows the evening star.

And an angel gathering up
Hopes long buried in the sea,
When I reach the heavenly port,
Will restore them all to me.

LADIES' BOOTS.

A little glove fits up my heart,
As ties stir up the ocean,
And snow-white muslin, when it fits,
Wakes many a curious notion;
All sorts of lady fashions thrill
My feelings as they'd order,
But little female gaiter boots
Are death, and nothing shorter.

CABBAGE AND DITTO.—We have just heard a cabbage story, which we will cook up for the laughter-loving readers.

"Oh! I loves you, like anything," said a young countryman to his sweetheart, warmly pressing her hand.

"Ditto," said she, gently returning the pressure.

The ardent lover, not happening to be over and above learned was sorely puzzled to understand the meaning of ditto, but was ashamed to expose his ignorance by asking the girl. He went home, and the next day being at work in the cabbage patch with his Father, he spoke out:

"Daddy what's the meaning of ditto?"

"Why," said the old man, "this here is one cabbage head, ain't it?"

"Yes, daddy."

"Well, that are's ditto."

"Rot that good for nothin' gall!" ejaculated the indignant, "so she called me cabbage head and I'll be darned to darnation if ever I go to see her again."

PUTTING IT STRONG.—An impatient Welshman called to his wife, "Come, come, isn't breakfast ready? I've had nothing since yesterday, and to-morrow will be third day!"

This is equal to the stirring housewife, who aroused her maid at four o'clock, with "Come, Bridget, get up! Here 'tis Monday morning; to-morrow's Tuesday, next day's Wednesday—half the week gone—and nothing done yet."

A VERY SICKLY PLACE.—The town agent at Hartford, Conn., sold 3,398 gallons of liquor last year to citizens, under a law which forbids all sales, except to the sick.

THE DRUNKARD'S WILL.—I leave to society a ruined character, a wretched example and a memory that will soon rot.

I leave to my parents the rest of their lives, as much sorrow as humanity in a feeble and decrepit state, can sustain.

I leave to my brothers and sisters as much mortification and injury as I well could bring on them.

ADVICE TO YOUNG MEN.—Are you stepping on the threshold of life? Secure a good moral character. Without virtue you cannot be respected; without integrity and sobriety, you can never rise to any point of distinction and honor.

LOVE OF READING.—When a young man has acquired a love of reading, and, of course a healthful relish for intellectual pleasures, he has become possessed of one of the best preservatives against dissipation. A fondness for low company and inoperative pleasures, is most generally the consequence of ignorance and want of taste.

A missionary in the Chinese waters having distributed several copies of the Ten Commandments on shore, they were sent back the next day with the request that they might be distributed among the French and English, for the tracts contained admirable doctrines, and these people evidently much needed them.

GENEROSITY.—One great reason why men practice generosity so little in the world is, they find so little there; generosity is catching; and if so many men escape it, it is in a degree from the same reason that countrymen escape the small-pox—because they meet with no one to give it to them.

The citizens of Glasgow and vicinity, are respectfully informed that the undersigned has permanently located himself in Glasgow, for the purpose manufacturing
TIN WARE AND DEALING IN STOVES.
Being a practical workman, and having been engaged in the business for 20 years, and having the best material, and being determined to manufacture nothing but a No. 1 article of ware, he flatters himself he will be able to give entire satisfaction.
Persons having houses to repair will find it to their interest to give me a call, as I will make it a point to attend to all job work personally.
I will also inform the public that I have just returned from St. Louis, where I made a careful selection of the best varieties of Cooking Stoves now manufactured in the West. I have 3 sizes of the justly celebrated Charter Oak, air tight.
3 sizes of the beautiful, well-tried New Era, 3 sizes Plymouth Rock, air tight.
3 sizes Pioneer, Premium.
I shall be my constant study to manufacture better tin-ware than has ever been offered in Missouri, and at reasonable prices.
